

CASE STUDY Kelly Nunn

BTEC Foundation Diploma
in Art and Design

“Great hands on experience.”

Introduction

After completing her GCSEs, Kelly's first choice was to go on to study Art and Design at college. Teachers and family were fully supportive as Kelly was already showing a natural talent for this subject.

Before enrolling at Braintree College, Kelly researched her chosen subject by talking to tutors and students already at the college. She was impressed with the art studios and the environment she would be studying in. After taking all of this into account Kelly enrolled on a BTEC National Diploma in Art and Design at Braintree College.

Achievement

After successfully completing her two year course Kelly embarked on a further one year BTEC Foundation Diploma in Art and Design. The course has helped to develop Kelly's design potential, this has become evident in her excellent work specialising in textiles. During a week's work experience Kelly had the opportunity to extend her knowledge of the fashion and textiles industry by working with the model Caprice at the Clothes show in Birmingham. During this tiring, but very rewarding, week Kelly was given the opportunity to work alongside the Model helping her promote and sell her latest range in lingerie. In Kelly's own words, "This was great hands on experience." Further work experience has included working at the Warner's Silk Mill Museum in Braintree.

The Future

Kelly has been given an unconditional place at Nottingham Trent University. The University is widely recognised as one of the best in the country for students looking to study Art and Design.

Kelly is looking to the future and after graduating would like a career working in textiles; her special area of interest is working on surface pattern design.
